You keep getting better at stories
And I stopped reading between the lines
You don't answer my calls, when I need you
So, why are you with me right now

No matter what you say, I know you're lying
But I kinda wish you were telling the truth

[Chorus:]

Tell me that you're honest
Tell me that they're making it all up
What about our promise?
What about the things that we could have?
Did you put a label on it?
Cause I'm throwing all that shit away
Tell me that you're honest
Tell me that you're honest, hey

You think I don't know what you're up to
And I start losing faith in your words
How did you expect this to end now?
And why do I still play along?

No matter what you say, I know you're lying
But I kinda wish you were telling the truth
Dare you to look in my eyes and deny it
I want you to know that it ended with you

[Chorus: x2]

Tell me that you're honest
Tell me that they're making it all up
What about our promise?
What about the things that we could have?
Did you put a label on it?
Cause I'm throwing all that shit away
Tell me that you're honest
Tell me that you're honest, hey
